

hamboorg.city

Deutschlandticket — Nationwide Public Transport for €63

Deutschlandticket: buses and trains across Germany for €63/month. What's included, what's not, and how to buy it. Status: March 2026.

Deutsche Begriffe: Deutschlandticket | ÖPNV | Nahverkehr | 49-Euro-Ticket | Regionalverkehr

Deutschlandticket — Nationwide Public Transport for €63

> Status: March 2026. All information without guarantee.

What is the Deutschlandticket?

The Deutschlandticket (formerly "49-Euro-Ticket") is a monthly subscription for the entire public local transport in Germany. Since January 2026, it costs €63 per month.

What's included?

☐ Yes:

- All buses, trams, underground trains, S-Bahn trains
- All regional trains (RE, RB, IRE) — in 2nd class
- Nationwide — from Hamburg to Munich, from Cologne to Berlin

☐ No:

- No ICE, IC or EC trains (long-distance travel)
- No 1st class
- No bike transport (unless locally permitted)

- No Flixbus or Flixtrain

Discounts

Group	Price/month
Standard	€63
Students / Trainees / FSJ	€43
Jobticket (via employer)	from €46.55 (25% discount)

Where to buy?

- App: DB Navigator, HVV, MVV, BVG or other local transport apps
- Online: deutschlandticket.de or bahn.de
- Customer center: In person at your local transport association
- It's a monthly subscription — cancellable by the end of the month (deadline: by the 10th of the month)

Who benefits?

The ticket is worthwhile if you use public transport regularly:

- Commuters: Already profitable from about 2 trips/day
- Occasional travelers: Weekend trips with regional trains across all of Germany
- Students: Check if your semester ticket is cheaper

Tips

- Hamburg → Berlin by regional train: free with Deutschlandticket (approx. 4.5 hours)
- Night buses and night lines are also included
- In DB Navigator, select "local transport only" when searching for routes
- The ticket is personal and non-transferable