Kündigung — Notice Periods, Severance Pay, and Work Certificate

Statutory notice periods, severance pay eligibility, and the right to a qualified work certificate in Germany.

Deutsche Begriffe: Kündigung | Kündigungsfrist | Abfindung | Arbeitszeugnis | Aufhebungsvertrag | Kündigungsschutzklage

Termination of Employment

Kündigung in Germany is subject to strict regulations. Whether you resign or are dismissed — know your rights.

Statutory Notice Periods (§ 622 BGB)

The basic notice period is 4 weeks to the 15th or end of a calendar month. For employers, the period increases with length of service:

Length of Service	Notice Period
-----	-----
0-2 years	4 weeks
2 years	1 month to end of calendar month
5 years	2 months to end of calendar month
8 years	3 months to end of calendar month
10 years	4 months to end of calendar month
12 years	5 months to end of calendar month

15 years	6 months to end of calendar month
20 years	7 months to end of calendar month

Formal Requirements

- Kündigung must be in writing (signed on paper)
- Email, SMS, or verbal Kündigung are invalid
- The date of receipt counts, not the date on the letter

Severance Pay

There is no legal entitlement to severance pay. However, in practice:

- Aufhebungsvertrag: Employers often offer 0.5-1.0 gross monthly salaries per year of employment
- Kündigungsschutzklage: Often settled with a settlement (= severance pay)
- Sozialplan: In mass layoffs, the works council determines severance payments

Work Certificate

After any Kündigung, you have the right to a qualified work certificate:

- Must be benevolent in tone
- Contains: job description, performance, conduct
- Hidden codes: "always to our complete satisfaction" = grade 1, "to our satisfaction" = grade 4
- Timeline: Request it immediately — statute of limitations after 3 years

Unfair Dismissal Claim

If you believe the Kündigung is unjustified:

- Deadline: File suit within 3 weeks of receiving the Kündigung at the labor court
- Costs: At first instance, each party bears its own attorney costs
- Use legal protection insurance or legal aid (for low income)

Resigning Yourself

- Observe the notice period (check your employment contract!)

- Warning: Voluntary resignation may trigger a 12-week benefit lock-out for unemployment benefits
- Search for a new job beforehand, if possible
